

DoView Tool I1 - Steps in Introducing DoView Strategy/Outcomes Diagrams and DoView Planning Into an Organization, Initiative or Sector

Below are the steps you need to take when introducing DoView strategy/outcomes diagrams and DoView Planning. These show how DoView diagrams can progressively be adopted as a central tool in planning and implementation. The idea is for an organization or initiative's DoView to become the shared thinking tool (artefact) for all planning, implementation and measurement discussions. Having a shared thinking tool for planning is analogous to military planners using a map when discussing strategy, or when those discussing a building project talk about their ideas against a detailed plan of the building.
